The objective of this program is to provide an update for physicians to help increase their skills and knowledge of new developments in disciplines related to clinical practice and practice management.

The first-ever Live Online Mid-Winter Osteopathic Seminar will kick off at 6 p.m. on Jan. 21. Our virtual CME program will be accessible via a website that will be available closer to the event. We anticipate that this program will be approved for 25 hours of AOA Category 1-A CME credits. All 25 hours will be available to view live online. It is highly encouraged that all attendees view the lectures live for question-and-answer purposes. However, attendees who cannot view the live online lecture will have until Feb. 7 to view missed lectures. All lectures viewed by Feb. 7 will be counted toward hours attended. As the event draws closer, emails will be sent with more information on the viewing format, schedule and events.
